

Great medical news for Sarasota to be proud of Three AWARDS at National / International meetings. less than a week.

November 2019 will remain as the most memorable months for me personally, and also for the great recognition for our Sarasota medical.

community on the national and international scene. Here's WHY:

1. November 1-2/2019: Lecturing at Congress in ISMAILIA SUEZ/canal//Egypt: The 6 annual Cardiology congress was organized by the Suez Canal Authority/University and attended by many national and international renowned professors of cardiology. I. was privileged and honored to present some of our novel and original discoveries from our cardiovascular Center of Sarasota which resulted in a great Recognition not only for me personally but also for our Sarasota medical community. I was honored and pleased to present this timely topic and receive the awards for our work in Sarasota

2. November 4/2019: invitation to participate as a faculty member at cardiology meeting in Cairo /Egypt at the Egyptian national research center where again

I was very privileged to present some of our research discoveries from our cardiovascular Center here in Sarasota. I was also very pleased that we Were given another award for that work in this national and international forum.

3. November 6 - 7/2019: I was very pleased and honored to participate on the 21, Annual Cardio Prevention Congress sponsored by the Egyptian Society of Cardiology not only as a faculty member but also as the chair for many of the sessions including moderating the direct transmission of lecture by Professor. Nanette Wenger, the leading professor in the world in woman's heart disease. the presentation was directly transmitted from Washington DC to Cairo Egypt.

again, very pleased and honored to receive the third Award in less than a week at this great meeting

I was also very pleased to see that much of our original work and publication on Cardiovascular Disease prevention was not only presented but also cited at this national/ international Congresses. Some of this publication could be seen now in publications on Research gate.com. This publication emphasizes very important topic for early detection of Cardiovascular Disease and stress the importance of:

Early detect to protect and the sooner the better and that 1 ounce of early cardiovascular disease prevention is better than Pounds of late cure

4.November 15 -18,2019 Annual Congress of the American Heart Association in Philadelphia/PA:

This was great congress where some of the work where I was principal investigator/ischemia trial was presented. The study was even published here in

Sarasota heart Tribune on Sunday, September 17, under the title:

New study cast doubt on need for heart procedures.

Hopefully that would help now more to focus on cardiovascular disease preventions, a matter I have been advocating and emphasizing for the last few decades. The AHA is one of the largest cardiology Congress in the world. I enjoyed very much this congress where I met with many national and international friends, renowned professors from all over the world including the current and past Presidents of the European Society of cardiology, American College of cardiology, American heart association, world heart Federation, Presidents of the Egyptian Society of cardiology and much more. It was nice to discuss with all of them the current topics in the field of cardiac prevention and informing them about the great cardiovascular prevention which we are doing here in Sarasota. I was also very pleased, that many of them accepted our invitation to participate in our upcoming 20th annual Sarasota Congress on cardiovascular disease prevention on February 7-9/2020. In Sarasota. I was very honored to have this great and renowned faculty accepted to come and lecture at our next 20/20/20 congress of cardiology which going to be hosted by 20 of the most renowned professors of cardiology in the country who will emphasize the importance of cardiovascular disease prevention. [Copy of the program attached]

ALL Sarasota should be very proud with this recognition keeping in mind our vision and our mission which is follows: EARLY detect to protect the sooner the better and 1 ounce of early cardiovascular disease prevention is better than pounds of late cure.

In conclusion I would like to thank Sarasota Memorial hospital board and CEO DAVID Varinder. Sarasota Memorial healthcare Foundation board and its CEO Ayres Mason, all colleagues' staff who contributed to our success and supporting our activity for cardiovascular disease prevention which hopefully will contribute to the national and international recognition of our beloved hospital SMH

Last but not least thanks to all our patients who participated in this cutting-edge Cardiovascular Disease Prevention Program

Best wishes to all. Please enjoy some of the pictures which was taken at this meeting

NOTE: For more details please visit our website:

www.iscvdp.org

Thank you for reading this update on our activities. looking forward to welcome you at our next national cardiovascular disease Congress in Sarasota Florida on February 7-9/2020. See detailed program on www.iscvdp.org

November 2019 will remain as the most memorable months for me personally and as a president of the international Society for Cardiovascular Disease Prevention. ISCVDP.